The condition of your credit determines where you are in the funding process. Wherever you are, Fundhub has a solution for that phase.

Chris, Fundhub's founder, has spent a decade in this industry, funded a little over $1,000,000 for himself, and pulled $100,000 credit lines on four different companies off one personal credit file. Every file Fundhub works runs through UnderwriteIQ, our own underwriting software, built from hundreds of files and thousands of data points.

Each offer below shows what you get and why it's worth it. The table at the end shows where to start.

Wherever your file is, Fundhub has the next step the four phases of funding · the offer for each

Every phase leads into the next one, and funding is where every path ends up.

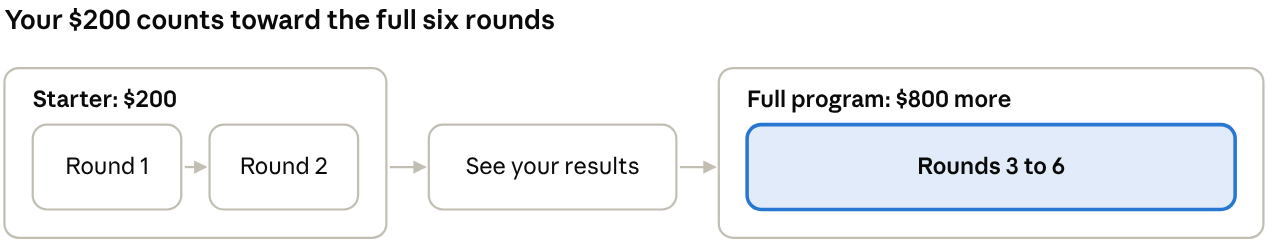

Credit optimization starter: $200

For $200, Fundhub runs your first two rounds of credit optimization, so you see results on your own file before you commit to the full program.

What you get

- Two dispute rounds on your file, done for you
- Metro 2 letters sent with Fundhub's own dispute and mailing strategy, built to get items off faster
- Your progress tracked in your client portal

Why it's worth it: the $200 counts toward the full program. Once you see the results, moving up to all six rounds costs $800 more.

starter to full program · 2 rounds, then 4 more

You see results from two rounds first, and the $200 you paid comes off the full program.

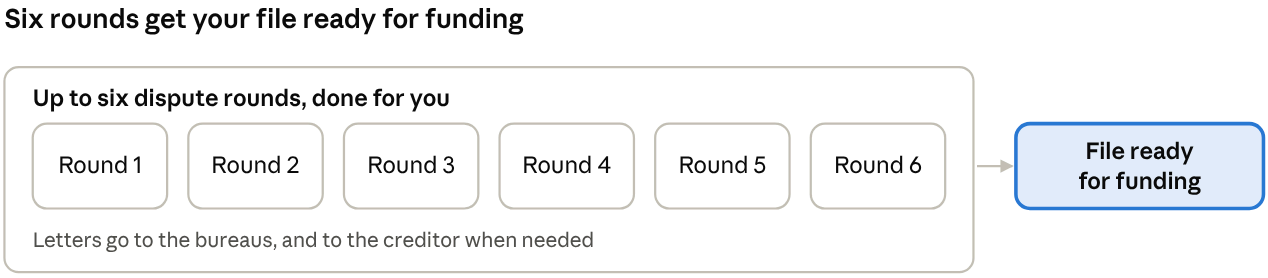

Full credit optimization: $1,000

For $1,000, Fundhub works your file for up to six rounds to get it ready for funding.

What you get

- Up to six dispute rounds, done for you
- Letters to the bureaus, and straight to the creditor that reported an item when that's what it takes
- Negative items, inquiries and old addresses cleaned up on your file
- Your progress tracked in your portal, with updates the whole way
- Financing available with a credit score of 600 or higher

Why it's worth it: the condition of your file determines how much funding you get approved for, so cleaning it up is the step that raises what you qualify for. When your file is ready, you move straight into funding with the same team.

full credit optimization · 6 rounds to a fundable file

Each round works the items still reporting on your file, and a ready file moves straight into funding.

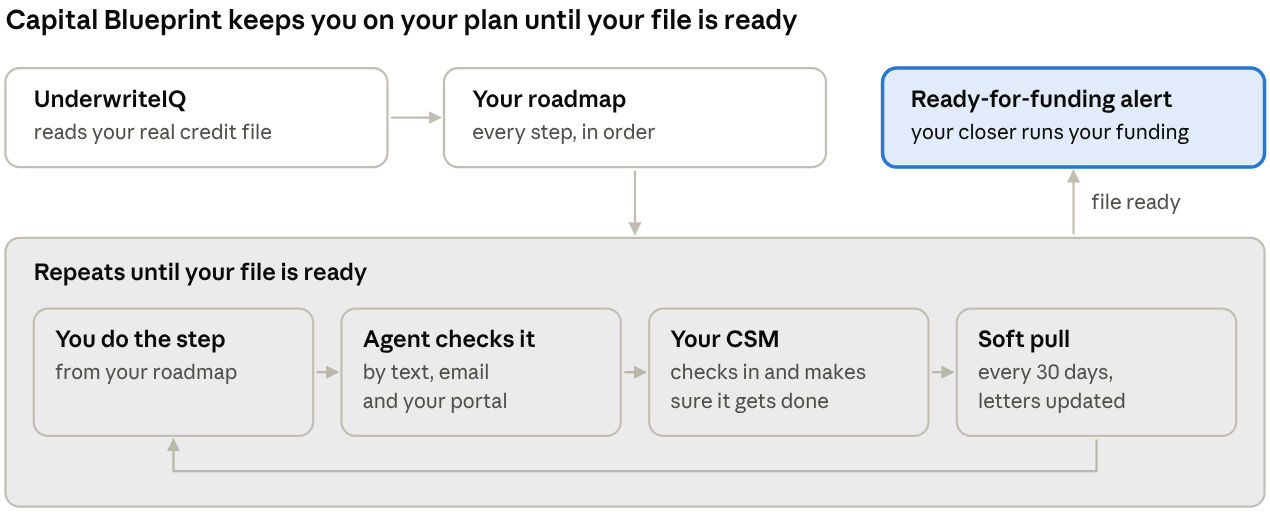

Capital Blueprint: $5,000 to $10,000

Capital Blueprint runs your actual credit through UnderwriteIQ and turns it into a step-by-step plan to get you funded as fast as possible, with a team and a system that keep you on it until your file is ready.

What you get

- Credit Analysis Report built from your real file
- Credit Optimization Roadmap with every step in order
- Dispute Letter Pack, with how and when to send each letter
- Funding Snapshot: how much we think you'll qualify for based on where you're at right now
- Bank & Lender Match List of the banks that approve files like yours
- A soft pull every 30 days, with your letters updated to match the changes on your file
- An accountability agent that texts you, emails you and pings your portal, breaks each task into small steps, answers your questions, and keeps each step open until it's done
- Your own CSM, who checks in and makes sure the work gets done
- Finance OS, coming soon: a paydown simulator, payment timing, and tracking of your promo periods after you're funded. Buy now and your first 12 months are free
- A ready-for-funding alert: when your file is ready, your closer reaches out to run your funding
- The option to add a spouse, partner or family member as a second applicant
- Financing available

Why it's worth it: you save the time and money it takes to learn this yourself, and every step comes from your own file. Fundhub is the only company in the industry that runs your real credit through an underwriting algorithm to build your plan.

Capital Blueprint · your plan, the loop that keeps you on it, and the handoff to funding

The agent and your CSM keep each step moving, and the soft pull every 30 days keeps your letters matched to your file until the alert goes to your closer.

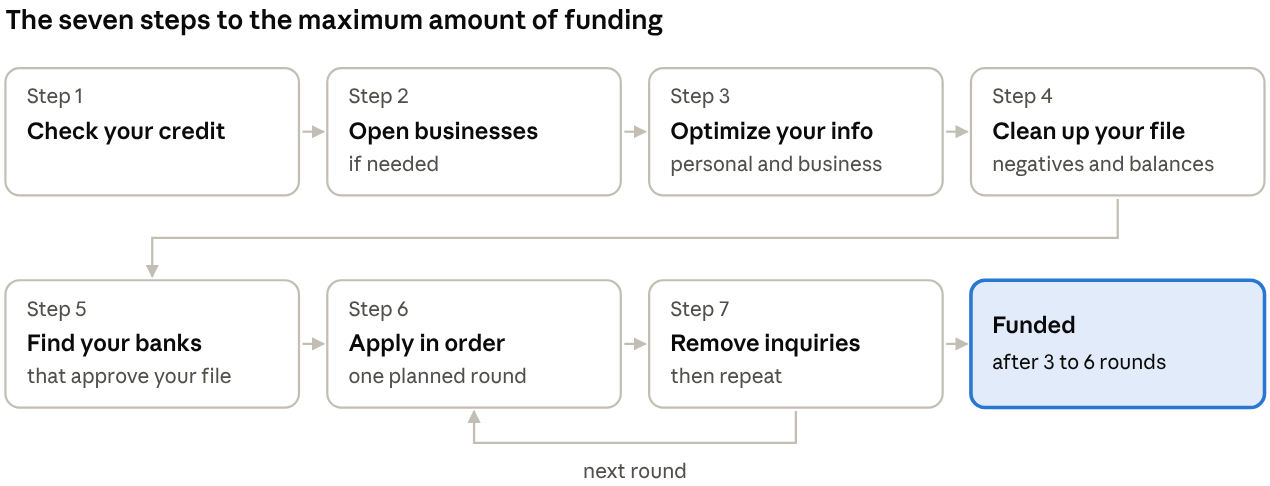

Funding, done for you: $1,000 to $3,000 down

Fundhub runs your funding from start to finish, and the upfront fee is taken only once you're confirmed qualified for funding.

What you get

- Your file optimized for the maximum amount of funding
- Your businesses opened, if you need them
- The banks that approve files like yours, picked from thousands of data points
- Applications sent in the right order, across 3 to 6 rounds in your funding sequence
- Inquiries removed between rounds
- Business funding, personal funding, or both
- Your own portal to track every round, with updates the whole way
- $1,000 to $3,000 down, plus a success fee on the funding you get, set on your call. The deposit can be financed when you have verifiable income and high credit

Why it's worth it: the banks you pick and the order you apply in determine how much you get approved for, and that's the part Fundhub runs for you. The average Fundhub client gets $100,000 to $300,000 in funding.

the funding process · 7 steps, steps 6 and 7 repeat each round

Steps 6 and 7 repeat for each round in your funding sequence, so every round goes in with the inquiries from the last one removed.

What you've heard about other offers

Here's how Fundhub handles the things you've heard about other funding offers.

What you've heard	How Fundhub handles it
You pay a big fee before anyone knows if you qualify	Your funding fee is taken only once you're confirmed qualified for funding, and your deposit counts toward your success fee
A big number in the ad, and far less in your account	UnderwriteIQ reads your own file first and shows how much we think you'll qualify for based on where you're at right now
A spray of applications that tanks your score	Applications go in planned rounds, in the order that approves files like yours, and a specialist removes inquiries between rounds

What you've heard	How Fundhub handles it
A course where you do all the work alone	Credit optimization and funding are done for you. Capital Blueprint gives you an accountability agent and your own CSM, with every step built from your file
You pay, and nobody answers	After you pay, you get your portal and your team, with updates the whole way
You only find out the price on the call	Every price is in this document
You need a business to get funded	You get funded on your personal file, your business, or both, and we open businesses for you if you need them
Shortcuts that put your file at risk	Every dispute is a Metro 2 letter on an item reporting on your file, and every application uses your real information

Questions people ask

Is Fundhub legit? Chris has spent a decade in this industry and worked hundreds of files. On your call, you see how the process works on your own file before you commit to anything.

How do I know you won't take my money and disappear? Your closer walks you through the agreement on screen before you get a payment link. After you pay, you get your client portal and the next person on your team, like your funding advisor.

I applied before and got denied. Why would this go differently? Your file at the time and the banks you picked determined that denial. UnderwriteIQ reads your file as it is today and shows which banks approve files like yours, and the order to apply in.

Will this put a lot of inquiries on my report? Your first look is a soft pull, which leaves your score where it is. Applications go in planned rounds, and a specialist removes inquiries between rounds.

Do I need a business? No. You get funded on your personal file, your business, or both, and we open businesses for you if you need them.

Can I finance it? Capital Blueprint can be financed. Credit optimization can be financed with a credit score of 600 or higher. The funding deposit can be financed when you have verifiable income and high credit.

What if I don't get funded? Your funding fee is taken only once you're confirmed qualified for funding. Before that, UnderwriteIQ shows how much we think you'll qualify for based on where you're at right now.

Can my spouse or partner join? Yes. Bring them on your call. With Capital Blueprint, you can also add them as a second applicant.

Where to start

Pick the row that matches your file today. On your call, we review your file the way a lender does and confirm where you start.

Where your file is today	Start with	Price
You want to see results on your file first	Credit optimization starter	$200
Negative items, inquiries or old addresses are holding your file back	Full credit optimization	$1,000
550s to 700s, and you want a step-by-step plan with a team keeping you on it	Capital Blueprint	$5,000 to $10,000
600 or higher and ready to get funded	Funding, done for you	$1,000 to $3,000 down, plus a success fee
